

Contents

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------|----|
| The beginning | 02 |
| The NAL mission | 03 |
| Civil aviation | |
| The HANSA success | 04 |
| SARAS is airborne | 05 |
| Civil aircraft - the way forward | 06 |
| Personal aerial vehicles | 07 |
| Radio-controlled blimp | 08 |
| Support to national programmes | |
| Aircraft modeling and control | 09 |
| Composite structures for Tejas | 10 |
| Design studies on the Kaveri engine for Tejas | 11 |
| NAL and India's space programme | 12 |
| Aircraft accidents | 13 |
| Technologies for aerospace | |
| The avionics challenge | 14 |
| The SARAS avionics adventure | 15 |
| Simulating the look and feel of an aircraft | 16 |
| Full-scale airframe testing | 17 |
| Testing aerospace structures | 18 |
| The SARAS spin-off | 19 |
| Initiatives in aerospace electronics | 20 |
| Supersonic combustion | 21 |
| Carbon fibre technology | 22 |
| New composite technologies | 23 |
| A new manufacturing process | 24 |
| Repairing aircraft structures | 25 |
| Smart materials for smart structural applications | 26 |
| Aircraft structural health monitoring | 27 |
| Viman Vikas | 28 |
| Enabling R&D | |
| The CFD advantage | 29 |
| Flosolver | 30 |
| 1.2m trisonic wind tunnel | 31 |
| Experimental fluid dynamics | 32 |
| Aerodynamics of aerospace vehicles | 33 |
| Finite element techniques | 34 |
| The CFD mirror | 35 |
| Simulation of aeroengine components | 36 |
| Understanding radomes | 37 |
| Turbomachinery | 38 |
| Advanced bearing technologies | 39 |
| Surface engineering technologies | 40 |
| Advanced ceramic technologies | 41 |
| Design and development of autoclaves | 42 |
| Engineering radomes | 43 |
| Ennobling technologies | 44 |
| Societal missions | |
| The NALSUN technology | 45 |
| Medium-scale wind turbines | 46 |
| The Pondicherry experiment | 47 |
| Varsha GCM | 48 |
| The way forward | 49 |

Suvarna Sadhana Team

Isaac JJ

Basavaraj D

Freddy D

Giri Raj C V

Kamath G M

Kannan P

Moodithaya R

Murthy A T L N

Nayak M R

Rajasekar A S

Rajashekar C

Sathyanarayana M N

Vijai A B S

Thanks to Dr A R Upadhy and our colleagues for their inputs

Special acknowledgements
to Srinivas Bhogle, K Anantha
Rao and P Sharath Chandra of the Sadhana team